SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR—ALWAYS IN ADVANCE.

BAY ST. LOUIS, MISS., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1929.

THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR No. 18

SATURDAY IS BIG DAY OF DAYS IN CAMPAIGN BETTER VOTE OFFERED

WINNERS MAY BE DECIDED BY WORK DONE DURING NEXT TWO DAYS, BUT TODAY IT'S ANYBODY'S RACE.

Your Subscription Counts More Credits Now Than Later Crucial Test at Hand—End of Campaign Only Three Weeks Off. Action, Action!

The bars are up. The track is clear; the preliminaries are over. The Echo's Mammoth $2,000 in Prizes Greater Circulation Campaign is on in earnest. The race for the rich awards headed by two of America's foremost motor cars swings into the third week with but a mere handful of subscription credits separating high and low contenders. On this page will be found the standings of the candidates up to Wednesday night.

Records will be made and, records will be broken with the ending of the epochal First Period. Never again will it be possible to secure many ballots as now. To WIN or NOT WIN is the question of the hour.

Candidates, Attention

The crucial test is now at hand.

If you ever intend doing anything in this race, DO IT NOW. Instead of being in second, third or fourth place, get up to the top and stay there. Now is the time to secure an insurmountable supply of credits. Now is the time to make reasonably sure of the prize you most desire. Ambition is a fine quality to possess, and everyone possesses it to a greater or lesser extent—but ambition is only an indication of desire—ACTION is the fulfillment of that desire.

Never again, after Saturday night, will it be possible to secure the full credit power on Subscriptions. This is a final and fair warning. To hold back now or rely on "promises" to subscribe at a later date, means that you will have to accept less credits on such orders. We are putting it up to you squarely. If you are certain any desire to be declared winner of the handsome Chevrolet Sedan or Ford Sedan to be awarded on June 8, do not fail to turn in every available subscription to your account before the close of the First Period, Saturday night.

Not to do so simply means that you will have to redouble your efforts during the remainder of the race to make up for lost ground. A few long-term subscriptions NOW may be the very ones needed to "cinch" the big prize; they could hardly help winning on of the major awards.

How "Period" Will Close

The First Period will end with the closing of the Echo's Campaign office Saturday night. The time is set for 9 o'clock, but should any candidate be unable to report in full by that hour, the time will be extended sufficiently to meet the requirements.

Candidates are requested to come to the office as early as possible in the evening. They will be waited on in order, first come, first served. The Echo office will be closed as soon as all candidates have reported in full and with its closing, the First Period of the campaign ends and the big credits will be a thing of the past. There positively will be no subscriptions accepted after Saturday night for First Period credits no matter what conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Public. If you have contemplated helping a friend in this campaign subscribe before 9 o'clock Saturday evening, and give your friends the benefit of the big credits. After Saturday, the credit schedule goes DOWN, DOWN, down, and the voting power of subscriptions is tremendously reduced. Therefore look after and protect your personal interest now.

Standing Today

With all reports not yet in for Wednesday evening count the standings are reported herewith.

So close are they arrayed that it is everyone's race—just a few "clubs" and the lowest one in the race could be in the lead and it is up to the individual members and their friends to improve their chances for the grand prize before the end of the First Period.

With but two more days in which to turn in subscriptions and receive the maximum credits for the same, and with but three more weeks to go before the race comes to a close, interest in the campaign is approaching a fever heat.

Each candidate realizes that the prizes stupendous in value, are practically in reach; either to be claimed for his or her very own or to be added to more aggressive opponents, during the next three weeks, depending to a major extent on the efforts being put forth while the big credits are being secured.

Don't Forget This

Each candidate from this thing out, must keep in mind the fact that the Echo's campaign is now in its third week, and the time is fast running out. The Echo's campaign is now in its third week, and the time is fast running out. The Echo's campaign is now in its third week, and the time is fast running out.

FAVRE ELECTED STATE SECRETARY K. OF C. ORDER

Hancock County Clerk Is Honored at Pascagoula Meeting With High Office.

A. G. Favre of Bay St. Louis, county clerk, delegate from Pere Le Duc Council Knights of Columbus to the state convention at Pascagoula, was honored by being elected to the office of state secretary, succeeding J. J. Ducote of Gulfport. G. O. Korn-doffer of Natchez and Bay St. Louis was again elected treasurer, an office he has held for a number of consecutive terms. Mr. Favre attended as a delegate from the local council of which he is past grand knight.

Other state officers chosen were: T. A. McKenna, Natchez, re-elected for the fourth time as state deputy; J. F. Henry, Jackson, advocate; Jos. S. Gabibi, Gulfport, warden; Rt. Rev. R. O. Gerow, bishop of diocese of Natchez, chaplain; alternate to state deputy to national convention in Milwaukee, J. J. Ducote, Gulfport, alternate to past state deputy, E. E. Hargan, Meridian; past state deputy is Nicholas Conti, Vicksburg.

Greenville Was Chosen as the 1930 Convention City.

The most constructive work of the convention deals with the laymen's retreat to be conducted at Bay St. Louis at St. Stanislaus College under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, June 14-17, at which fully 60 are expected. Brother Peter, president of Stanislaus, who acted as advocate at the convention, in the absence of this officer, spoke on the laymen's retreat, comparing a man's spiritual life to his business life stating that a business man needed to take an inventory of his business, and every man needs to take an inventory of his spiritual life, and the retreat offers an excellent opportunity for this contemplation.

C. A. Gordon is state chairman of the retreat and was in attendance at the convention.

State officers present at the convention included: T. A. McKenna, Natchez, deputy; J. J. Ducote, Gulfport, secretary; G. O. Korn-doffer, Natchez, treasurer; Jo Ros, Pascagoula, warden; Brother Peter, Bay St. Louis, acting advocate.

Every council in the state was represented at the convention. Delegates in attendance: Bay St. Louis, C. A. Jordan, A. G. Favre; Gulfport, John S. Cabibi, Peter Bugna; Biloxi, John Schwenck, Eugene Mangin; Pascagoula, A. K. Walker, J. K. Walters; Natchez, R. A. Klein, Dave Gunn; Jackson, J. F. Henry, C. B. Boone; Vicksburg, A. E. Tucker, C. W. Katzenmeyer; Greenville, B. D. Roper, John J. Rigney; Meridian, B. W. Piazza, E. E. Hargan; Laurel, C. W. Ketrick; Hattiesburg, John Carroll, E. A. Kernaghan.

effort is it going to take you to win these prizes? How many credits will it take? The answer to your question is: It will take your very best effort during the next three weeks.

The answer to the second question lies in the fact that it will be necessary to get every credit you can and right now.

The race is on and the pace is getting hot. Who wants these beautiful automobiles and other awards? You may have any one you want—if you will.

A MILLION CREDITS IS EASILY SECURED

Here's an example of how easy it is to get over a MILLION credits in the Echo's $2,000 Automobile Campaign. 40,000 credits are allowed on each five year subscription to the Echo provided the same is turned into campaign headquarters before the close of the First Credit Period, 9 o'clock p. m. Saturday. Twelve year subscriptions would entitle you to 480,000 REGULAR Credits and according to the rules of the campaign of less than 100,000 extra Credits with every $20 turned in you would be entitled to 800,000 EXTRA Credits. This number added to the 480,000 REGULAR Credits would make a total of 1,280,000 credits for just 12, 5 year orders. Therefore, the twelve 5 year orders would equal in shorter term orders would amount to One Million credits. Easy enough, isn't it?

Have you 12 friends who would help you to the extent of a 5 year subscription each, new or renewal, to the Echo, turning in the first $20 from Chevrolet or Ford or any other car?

LEO W. SEAL ELECTED GROUP VICE-PRESIDENT

Geo. R. Rea is Member Executive and Nominating Committees

Leo W. Seal, cashier of Hancock County Bank, was elected vice-president of group 8, at the Mississippi Bankers Association in Biloxi this week. This honor is well deserved. There are eight groups in the state with a vice-president for each. Mr. Seal's group includes the banks south of Laurel.

George R. Rea, president Merchants Bank and Trust Company, a member of the executive committee of the state association, was also a member of the nominating committee at the convention. He holds the office of member of the executive committee for three years, having been elected last year.

Others from Bay St. Louis attending the bankers met included Mrs. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Weston, Rev. R. E. Grubb and Rev. C. C. Clark.

Invitations have been sent to all graduates of St. Stanislaus College to attend the annual meeting of the Alumni Association to be held at the college Sunday, June 2.

The college is anticipating a large attendance of graduates who will enjoy the day spent at the college.

The banquet will be held at 1 o'clock. The afternoon will be devoted principally to a baseball game, probably between the college team and a team made up of alumni though this detail has not been decided.

Leaving For Oregon

Mrs. A. K. Roy and children, accompanied by a chauffeur and nurse, will leave next week for Portland, Ore., making the trip by motor. They will join Mr. Roy who is in Oregon on business and will remain for the summer.

DOZEN ARE POISONED

Drug is Placed in Flour Used in Baking Party Cake.

Chicago, May 15.—A powerful poison placed in flour later used to bake a cake tonight was blamed for the serious condition of 12 people who attended a party and ate the cake. Health Commissioner Arnold Kegel, after an investigation, branded the presence of the poison in the flour as a "wholesale attempt at murder," and ordered police to investigate.

The stricken persons are relatives and friends of Frank J. Ruelhman and attended a party at his home Sunday night, at which ice cream and the home baked cake were served. All the guests became ill the following day and tonight their condition was said to be critical. The victims range in age from 19 to 74 years.

Police investigators took the package of cake flour and an analysis showed almost a cup of the poison had been placed in the package.

DRY LAW IS REPEALED

"The Gulf Coast of Mississippi has made wonderful progress in the last few years in protecting its beautiful shore line from encroachment of the sea and the seawalls and beach highways recently built are considered outstanding achievements. Particularly is this true of the Pascagoula wall and I hope you can be with us that day and enjoy our hospitality as well as see this remarkable improvement."

SAFER IN HANCOCK CO. JAIL

Deputy Ladner Nicaise Returns From Jackson With Horace Seals in Charge.

Ladner Nicaise returned to Bay St. Louis, the county seat, Wednesday morning, with Horace Seals, who has been in the Hinds county jail at Jackson for safekeeping, and who is one of the trio charged with the killing of Philip Peterson, north of Kenton, recently.

Judge White, of the Circuit Court instructed that Seals be returned to the Hancock jail; that since the other two, Henry Windom and Red Summers charged jointly with the same crime, had made good their escape, it were better no further chances be taken.

Deputy Nicaise made the trip to and from Bay, unaccompanied, and landed his man in the Hancock goose-how safely and without ceremony, as the efficient officer that he is.

THEY'RE OFF

Below is shown for the first time the names and standing of those who have entered THE SEA COAST ECHO'S great Automobile and Prize Circulation Gift Campaign.

Also in the list are a number of persons who have been suggested who have not yet become active in the campaign. Those with 5,000 votes have merely been nominated. Those with more than 5,000 votes are active candidates and have set out to win an automobile or other valuable prize.

Everybody wins in this campaign. The full voting strength of candidates is not shown here. Just enough of the votes up to the present time is shown to designate the order in which the various candidates are starting. This list indicates who is in first, second, third, fourth place and so on down the line.

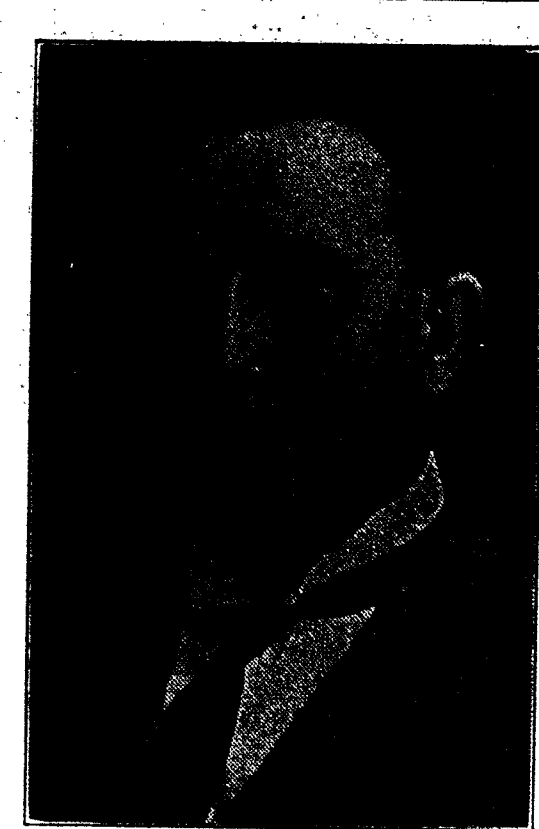

The race is on now and the candidates are off to practically an even start. Watch next week's paper. There may be many changes in the standing. What is to be done in THIS CAMPAIGN must be done now. The time is short—the reward is big. June 8 and the automobiles and other prizes will be turned over to their new owners.

—The Echo notes where Joseph L. Favre has secured the contract for building concrete walkways in front of the city hall, and it is well that a home man secured this work. The Echo dislikes to note where public work goes to outsiders when it is home people who pay the taxes and in turn pay for these improvements. The principle is wrong and should be avoided whenever possible. Contractor Favre will begin the work at once, and, needless to say, it will be well done and the city given full value received for its money. Construction of this work will add to the appearance of the city hall, and is quite necessary.

—Among those from Bay St. Louis attending the Wednesday night banquet at the Markham Hotel during the state convention of physicians were Dr. and Mrs. Alvah P. Smith and their charming and accomplished daughter, Miss Beatrice Smith.

—C. J. Gordon, of Bay St. Louis and formerly of the Merchants Bank, has resigned his position in New Orleans and on Monday will assume charge of the office of the Hotel Weston, assisting the proprietor, Mr. Waldo Otis. C. J. has many friends locally and in New Orleans as well as along the Coast and his coming to the popular Weston will be hailed with much pleasure.

Mayor Chas. Traub, Sr., and Commissioners F. H. Egloff and Sylvan J. Ladner were guests Wednesday noon of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club and each delivered addresses on the affairs of their respective offices.

So constructive has been their administration, and their work marked with the practice of proper economy, and improvement accomplished, that by resolution a rising vote of recognition of the men and their work was given before adjournment.

Mayor Traub gave a talk telling of the revenues of the city. He told how the city had inherited an $18,000 debt and paid it, bought and paid for $6,500 fire engine, paid for paving approaches of seven side streets connecting with beach boulevard, and had gone through the year without borrowing money for the general and sinking funds.

As matter of vital interest, the figures telling of the city's income for the past year are given herewith. Next week The Echo will reproduce the interesting figures produced by Commissioner of Finance Egloff and also of Commissioner of Public Utilities Sylvan J. Ladner, which want of space and time precludes publishing heretofore with Mayor Traub's figure, which follows:

A Biloxi paper reports a Carnival deficit of over seven hundred dollars. Now, laugh that off.

Whether guilty or not, two alleged murderers from Hancock county who escaped Hinds county jail last week, certainly did not do their case any good.

The man who keeps his house painted and grass cut around his premises is a citizen not to be overlooked in the list of those who help to build and make a better place to live in.

Mr. Sinclair may still be in jail, but it is still reasonable safe to steal a few million dollars in this country where the people worship big things. Now, if you steal a loaf of bread the jury will convict you. We suppose they have a feeling of disgust for a piker.

It was quite an item of constructive news carried in these columns recently that the H. Weston Lumber Company had purchased sufficient timber in adjoining counties to run the big Logtown mills for possibly another year. He who gives labor to his fellowmen is a benefactor. This fact is too frequently not fully realized.

Governor Bilbo has left the capitol and is spending ten days at his home in Poplarville, and gives it out he is planning for the forthcoming extra session of the Legislature with which he has been threatening the public for many months past. Going to Poplarville for inspiration, we guess. Good for South Mississippi.

Possibly there are over a dozen luncheon clubs on the Coast. How much these intimate organizations of business men mean for the different sections in which they exist, and also as a whole, cannot be overestimated. Issues affecting the public and community as well receive quick attention and with definite results. No medium exists to bring business men together and get better acquainted.

A recent survey recently published gives out the information that fully half of the present waste of land lying between New Orleans outskirts and Chef can be reclaimed by proper drainage, thus adding not only taxable value to Louisiana but more available space to the many who will in time create residence in that section. It has been authoritatively said that over fifty per cent of the waste lands of this country can be reclaimed and put to good purpose.

Our attention has again been called to the fact how well and profitably the fig grows on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, and someone is overlooking a most lucrative field of endeavor in failing to put up the fruit for market. That the demand is far from being supplied is best proven by the price and ready sale of the product. The Celeste fig is the best and grows better on the Coast. The fact the fruit is so perishable is all the more an argument why it should go through the process of preserving and made salable all the year 'round.

Over four hundred Mississippi State Bankers have been on the Mississippi Coast this week in annual session, discussing discounts and other rates, not forgetting the Mississippi Guaranty law that has ceased to become a joke but a matter that is looming up big and growing to serious proportion. Even officials in charge of its enforcement have come out in signed and other public statements and by figures show the danger of such law. Other states where similar law existed, have caused its repeal and report prior to such action great relief.

The people of Leetown community, in this county, who have created a public park for popular recreation, are to be both commended for their move and congratulated for the success which neighborhood cooperation has brought about. The sting of loneliness of many rural communities of America would be removed if there were more such recreational centers, where people may gather in such surroundings, forget the daily cares and revel in the joys of genuine recreation. More joy, more health and a general betterment of mental attitude as well.

The year 1931 is just around the corner. It will be political year in Hancock county and the State of Mississippi. State politics will be the hottest yet. A writer in the Brookhaven Leader asks, "Who will tackle Pat Harrison next year for the Senate. Congressman Will Wittington of the Third District? Bilbo, Bidwell Adam? Or some proverbial 'dark horse' yet unmentioned? How thick will be the field for governor? Is Paul Johnson going to run then? And Mike Conner again, as well as Dennis Murphree and Albert Anderson? How about Tom Bailey, Lester Franklin, Bura Hilburn and Hugh White and the others now being mentioned."

It is not amiss, even at this time, to again comment on the splendid showing Hancock County made first, at the different community fairs and later at the Gulf Coast Fair, last fall. Not only was the display attractive, the exhibits varied but the idea of telling the story of Hancock county and its potential possibilities were convincingly and conclusively illustrated. We were told, however, a late start was made last year and notwithstanding what is said in the foregoing, a better showing would be possible this year. We know the people of Hancock county are really interested in showing their county in the best possible manner.

POWER, LOANS AND THE PRESS

General condemnation greeted the disclosure that a large power company had loaned millions of dollars to newspaper owners, acquiring stock in many instances.

A special story from Washington in last Saturday's Times-Picayune tells of further effort exercised in the effort to acquire further number of newspapers by special interests, this time newspapers in the region of South and North Carolina and Tennessee had been approached for purchase but owners had refused. Clark Howell, of the Atlanta Constitution, was similarly but informally approached, but he gives it out, that as long as he lives the Constitution will never change ownership. Two million dollars were offered and four million spurned.

Mr. Graustein, president of the International Paper and Power Co., appearing before the inquisitorial commission at Washington was extremely frank in his testimony. He saw no reason for suspicion in the fact that his company is interested in rates for public utilities, blandly assuring everyone that it did not seek to control news or editorial opinion.

With due deference to Mr. Graustein it is apparent to anybody with half an eye open that the so-called power trust, from the Pacific to the Atlantic, has been assiduously engaged in a campaign to influence the press, and the public mind, to its own obvious advantage.

With further reference to Mr. Graustein's idea that ownership of a string of newspapers by the power interests would have no effect on the news or policies of the newspapers, but The Echo would like to merely cite the fact that few citizens buy automobiles for the riding of strangers. Nor do gasoline companies lend autos in order to sell gas.

THE BAY ST. LOUIS AERO SIGN

A news story in last issue of The Echo was to the effect that through the instrumentality of the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, both the Board of Supervisors and Board of City Commissioners co-operating in the matter of finance, an aero sign is to be painted and that the vast expanse of the Central high school building roof will be used for the purpose.

This is a forward step. The only regret is that we cannot just now, possibly we may later, create a landing field. Aviation is no more an experiment. It is recognized, employed to everyday practical purposes, with planes flying overhead daily.

Bay St. Louis must be put on the map. Other progressive towns have taken the step. These signs are easily discernible to flyers and serve as a detail guide. It is expected the Bay St. Louis aero sign will become an accomplished matter at some immediate time and in addition to whatever purpose it will serve those who travel overhead to full purpose and give Bay St. Louis all the publicity possible.

Times change rapidly and it is well we keep pace with things and conditions. It has long been accepted that standing still is going backward.

GAS TAX WINS EVERY STATE

Ten years ago Oregon and Colorado imposed a tax on gasoline. Since New York and Illinois passed their new tax bill this year every American state has the gasoline tax, varying from two to five cents per gallon.

Last year forty-six states collected $305,233,842 through this source, and spent nearly all of it for roads. Like all new taxes the gasoline levy was bitterly denounced and contested, but nobody seems to be against it now.

In Mississippi, like in every other State where the gasoline tax is collected, the law and its provisions work to admirable provisions. The gas tax seems to hurt no one. For road building and kindred improvement it is the fairest and most equitable measure adopted by the solons. We build and expand, permanent roads that were heretofore impossible because of cost, are now but a matter of sequence. We construct roads for those who pay as they ride. Those who do not ride do not pay.

What the gasoline tax has done for Hancock county is a most outstanding example.

CAN LOGICALLY LOOK FORWARD TO.

James M. Thompson, publisher of the New Orleans Item, has written a series of letters covering N. O. Mobile section that are both interesting and constructive and read with pleasure and profit. Mr. Thompson's is of the opinion "that the Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Clermont Harbor section can logically look forward to being built up by New Orleans people. They have the advantage of nearness to the city."

"Bay St. Louis has come into the picture with its new seawall and its new roadway. Likewise Waveland and Clermont Harbor. It would seem to me that now that this roadway is built down along the shore of Hancock county, that some comparatively inexpensive draining of the swamp could be done."

SEVEN GREAT MANUFACTURING STATES.

It is interesting to observe that seven states produced slightly more than sixty per cent of the products manufactured in the United States in 1927, and we suppose the same status continues. The states of New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Ohio, Michigan, New Jersey and Massachusetts, ranked in order, manufactured goods to the value of $37,718,834,411 and the rest of the nation's manufactures aggregated only $25,002,491,470.

The number of wage earners in these states totalled 4,327,197, or 57.3 per cent of the 8,355,325 that worked in the entire country, and the money earned by the workers in these states was about 63 per cent of the total paid all workers in the nation, $10,843,892,532.

Well, one element of the proposed extra session of the Legislature is characterized with a fact that the members of the Legislature are to be paid for their services. This is a fact that is not to be overlooked.

Tad Is Dead.
The Debuture Plan.
Wanted, Another Edison.
A "Want Ad."

"Tad" Dorgan is dead. Millions knew him. He analyzed human nature in pictures, as well as Dickens did in words.

Stricken by heart disease, knowing that he might die at any moment, he continued working cheerfully and died in his sleep.

He worked as a boy, in a mill, to support his mother and younger children. When his right hand was mutilated, in an accident, he drew pictures with his left hand.

A Hearst editor asked him to come from San Francisco to New York for double the salary he was paid. Tad replied, "I have my mother and six kid brothers and sisters. I wouldn't leave them."

Invited to bring them all East at Mr. Hearst's expense, he came and established a reputation throughout the whole country.

Prize fight enthusiasts, with half an inch of forehead, or Charles Dana Gibson, with a brow like the dome of St. Peter's will tell you "Tad was a great man."

The Senate may put through the "farm relief" debuture plan in spite of the President's protest. That is good news for middlemen. They would buy farm products, export them and get a bonus on exported products.

The farmer would get the bonus if he could ship wheat or cotton direct to Liverpool. But he cannot do that.

It is "hoped that giving a bonus to exporting middlemen will 'automatically' increase prices paid the farmer."

Silly hope. Paying the middlemen twenty cents a quart for milk does not increase the four or five cents a quart paid the farmer.

However, the debuture bonus would put money in circulation, even if it did the farmer no direct good. Also it would add to the rich man's taxes and make that resourceful gentleman say to himself, "I must think up a way to solve that farm problem."

Expensive labor compels production of new machinery. Expensive farm curé-alls will make financial intelligence interest itself in the farmer.

Governors of various States are co-operating with Thomas A. Edison, seeking among boys of today, "Edison's successor." That boy, when he is found, will find himself.

To develop Edison, one among hundreds of millions, many ingredients, including poverty and necessity, were necessary.

The next Edison is somewhere, on a farm, or in the city.

There is no way to identify him now.

It pays to get a good job and attend to it. And it pays to advertise. Twenty-two years ago, D. A. Crawford very young, answered a "want ad." and got a job as stenographer with Mr. Carry, late president of the Pullman Company.

Yesterday the Pullman Company directors, intelligently promoting one of their own men, chose Mr. Crawford to succeed Mr. Carry, as president.

Don't stay in the wrong place. But don't be in a hurry to decide that you are right and the job is wrong.

One individual in this country, at least, is free from the worries that oppress a majority of us. John D. Rockefeller, playing golf with his old friend, Dr. Soper, Saturday morning on his Lakewood, N. J., golf course, answered a few questions, waiting his turn to drive off.

What is the most interesting period of life?

The period in which I am now. (Mr. Rockefeller, born in 1839, will soon be ninety years old.)

Which of your residences do you like best?

The one in which I happen to be. I concentrate on that, and forget the others.

Can you remember all the large sums that you have given away? (Mr. Rockefeller, to education, scientific investigation and other public purposes, has given hundreds of millions.)

No, but if the money was well placed, it is not necessary to remember details. I am glad to say that I am now freed from the work of selecting and deciding.

Mr. Rockefeller's son, John D. Jr., attends to his father's work, which is, largely, disposing of his income for public purposes.

John D. Rockefeller is the only man known all over the country by his initials.

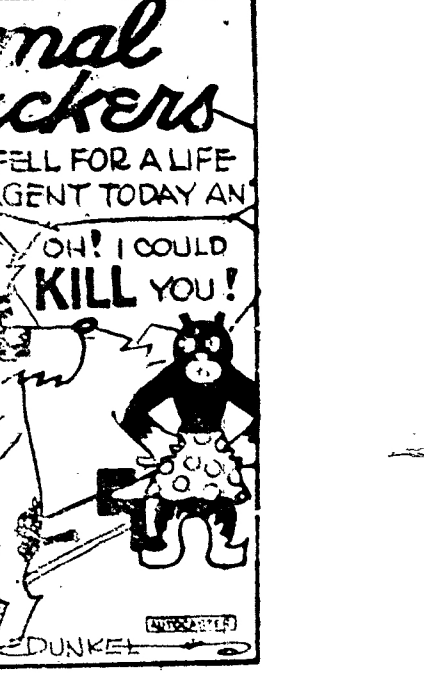

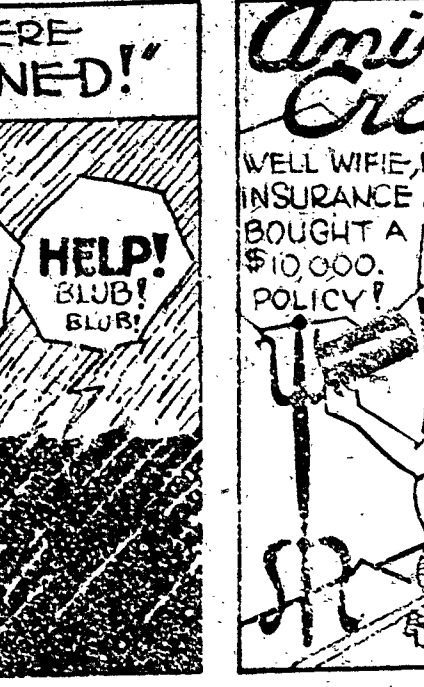

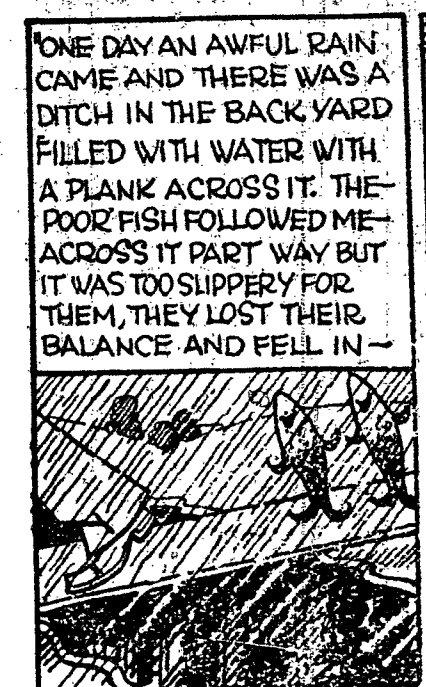

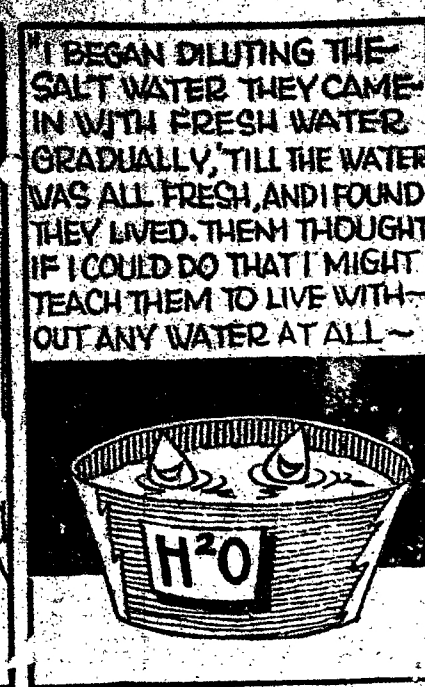

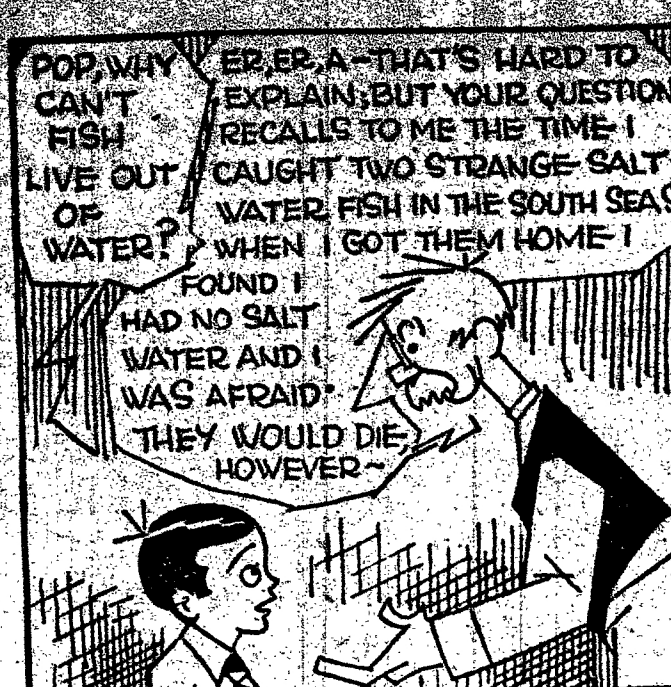

Everybody knows that John D. means the man who established the great project of placing a baby's bed in the rear room at the new depot and plan an entertainment in the rear future to accomplish this fine work.

Young men that would like to know how to succeed, please note that Mr. Rockefeller plays golf, with intense earnestness, and concentration as he does everything else.

Rockefeller is a caddy, but could probably be a caddy for a while, ten years ago, when he was a caddy for a caddy.

SISTER CITY ACROSS BAY ST. LOUIS PLANS BIG SUMMER SEASON

Pass Christian Commandably Hangs Out Latch String To Summer Visitors.

Bay St. Louis' Sister City across the bay is not only putting its house in order for the summer but is doling up and commendably its civic factors are getting together and will hang the latch string out for the summer visitor—hoping the hundreds of thousands that will swarm to the Gulf Coast an swim in the briny waters that ebb and flow every twenty-four hours, will be attracted to Pass Christian—that they will "long and linger" and augment its summer population to that proportion the classic city and Coast beauty spot is justly entitled to. Incidentally, it might be said, other Coast towns might "get wise" and profit thereby.

The following press story is of interest: Among the most important matters discussed at a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held in the City Hall was entertainment and amusements for summer visitors. Due to the reduction in hotel, railroad and rental rates plans are being made for one of the largest seasons Pass Christian has had in many years. Cooperation with the plans of the Yacht Club, the Outboard Motor Race Association, Tennis Club, the Pass Christian National Tarpon Club and the Baseball League was endorsed. Efforts to have the city bus operate to Henderson Point at intervals during the day-time and naming same "The Bathing Beach Special" were considered.

The celebration of the sixth anniversary of the Chamber of Commerce, June 13, with a banquet, was planned. The feature will be a contest between the past administrations for the largest percentage of members for each year in attendance at the banquet. The speakers will be past presidents and several other prominent interested citizens of the Gulf Coast.

Will Make Aero Sign

The local Chamber of Commerce held a brief business session Tuesday night at which bills were allowed and two matters decided. The organization will erect a sign on the Old Spanish Trail. Some time ago the matter of painting a suitable sign on top of the Central High School building for directing airplanes was discussed and at this meeting it was reported that the city commissioners and board of supervisors would cooperate in this matter by paying for the sign and work will begin on this soon.

Busy Little Workers

The Busy Little Workers, junior circle of the Kings' Daughters, enjoyed a pleasant meeting Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. J. Leonard, their leader, postponing their meeting from Saturday. This group of little girls are much interested in the project of placing a baby's bed in the rear room at the new depot and plan an entertainment in the rear future to accomplish this fine work.

In a deep voice, "I am not discouraged," and "I will be back next time." When he makes a particularly good shot, Peter, his Italian caddy says, "Mr. Rockefeller that was a CORK." "Yes Peter," says Mr. Rockefeller, "that was really a corker." To succeed do whatever you do, as well as

It costs very little to recondition a MODEL T FORD

THE Ford Motor Company is making a new car, but it is still proud of the Model T. It wants every owner of one of these cars to run it as long as possible at a minimum of trouble and expense.

Because of this policy and because of the investment that millions of motorists have in Model T cars, the Ford Motor Company will continue to supply parts as long as they are needed by Ford owners.

So that you may get the greatest use from your Model T, we suggest that you take it to the nearest Ford dealer and have him estimate on the cost of any replacement parts that may be necessary.

You will find this the economical thing to do because a small expenditure now will help to prevent costlier repairs later on, increase the value of the car, and give you thousands of miles of additional service.

For a labor charge of only $2.60 you can have your generator put in first-class condition. A new universal joint will be installed for a labor cost of $3. Overhauling the carburetor costs $1.50; steering gear, $3.50; radiator, $7.50. A complete overhauling of the rear axle assembly runs between $5.75 and $7 for labor. An average price of $22.50 covers the overhauling of the motor and transmission.

These prices are for labor only because the need and number of new parts depend on the condition of each car. The cost of these parts is low, however, because of the Ford policy of manufacturing and selling at a small margin of profit.

STANISLAUS TO PLAY SPRINGHILL GAMES MAY 18-19

Games of Unusual Interest Are Scheduled for Saturday and Sunday Afternoons.

St. Stanislaus College baseball team has two games of unusual interest scheduled for this week-end when the local boys will play Springhill Saturday and Sunday on the campus stadium here.

The college boys put up a fine fight Wednesday afternoon at Mobile against Springhill, losing their game 7 to 2. The fact that the Springhill team is made up almost entirely of former baseball stars from last year from the Biloxi High school team makes their games particularly interesting to Coast people. A large attendance at the games of fans is urged.

HINDU CHARLATANS EXPOSED IN FILM COMING TO A. & G.

Feature Picture at Local Theatre for Next Wednesday and Thursday—May 22-23rd.

Universal's mystery of a fake fortune teller, "The Charlatan," has been scheduled by the A. & G. Theatre and will open Wednesday evening for two days, May 22nd and 23rd.

The picture is an "inside story" of the workings of a Hindu fortune teller, who, in this case, is an American masquerading in the role. The trust that many women often place in such fakirs, revealing the innermost secrets of their hearts, is one of the entertaining features of the picture.

"The Charlatan" is an adaptation of the stage success of the same name.

The cast is a notable one, with Holmes Herbert, Rockliffe, Fellows, Margaret Livingston and Fred Mackaye in the leading roles.

SISTER GILDARD PASSES AWAY AT ST. JOSEPH'S

Aged Religious Dies Suddenly Tuesday Night—Resided in Bay St. Louis 20 Years

Sister Gildard, of St. Joseph's Academy died suddenly Tuesday night about 11:40 o'clock, in her room at the convent, at the age of 76 years. She was a native of France but had been in the United States 26 years, having resided at the convent in Bay St. Louis for 20 years. She was a member of a staunch Catholic family, the Tranchans of France, there being five sisters who were religious. One sister, Sister Marcellina of St. Joseph's Academy, New Orleans, older than Sister Gildard, was in attendance at the funeral.

Every mark of respect was paid the departed Sister. The funeral was held from Our Lady of the Gulf church Wednesday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, Rev. A. J. Gmelch officiating. A number of masses had been said for her at the morning services and many others have been pledged for her. The students of the school followed the funeral coach to the cemetery walking in a body. A great concourse of people, many of whom had been taught by Sister Gildard, were in attendance at the funeral. Interment was in the convent's private plot at St. Mary's cemetery where other Sisters have been laid.

Sister Gildard has been ill for several years and has not actively taught for some years. She formerly taught French at the convent school. She was a model of the religious life, is the tribute paid her by Mother Clair, mother superior of the convent, who has known her for 20 years. She was of a cheerful disposition, witty, always passing kindly remarks and joking with those who she met daily. She was obliging, always ready to assist anyone who came to her for help. Of late years she has sewed much and often aided others in sewing. Although she had been ill for several years, yet recently she had seemed much better and her death came as a great surprise. She was about her duties Tuesday afternoon and happily conversing with sisters and children. In the middle of the night Mother Clair heard the sound of a fall and when she turned on the light discovered Sister Gildard lying dead. In the tribute which Rev. Gmelch paid to the departed he called attention to the reward of a religious life.

Pleasant Picnic

The members of the Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church W. M. S. enjoyed a pleasant party Saturday afternoon at Henderson Point, there being 60 in the party. An honored guest was the pastor, Rev. W. S. Allen. The chaperones were Mrs. N. E. Cruthirds and Mrs. Ed Osborne. Bathing and games were enjoyed. Refreshments of sandwiches and pop were served.

"The Charlatan" is an adaptation of the stage success of the same name.

The cast is a notable one, with Holmes Herbert, Rockliffe, Fellows, Margaret Livingston and Fred Mackaye in the leading roles.

LEETOWN MEETING PROVES SUCCESS

The meeting held Sunday afternoon as the second of Leetown's Better Homes demonstrations proved quite successful with between 75 and 100 present at the Leetown Playground and Park to hear the discussions.

Mrs. A. B. Grobheimier gave a talk discussing the treatment of windows, floor coverings, correct arrangement of furniture and the best pictures for the home. She made the following as the four pictures each home should have: The Angelus, Millet; Bay St. Louis, Van Dyck; Whistler's Mother, Sistine Madonna, Raphael.

Ita Mae Allingham, senior at St. Joseph's Academy, read Edgar A. Guest's "Home."

Miss Mayme O'Dom read the two winning essays on What I Should Like My Home To Be, the first by Donald Skinner who has recently moved to the Leetown community from Iowa and the second by Clarence Mitchell of Bay St. Louis.

After the meeting at the park everyone visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rester. This home has been painted inside and outside, has had the furniture retouched and is one of the show places of the community. Delicious ice cold lemonade was served to all by Mr. and Mrs. Rester assisted in the serving by Mrs. Luther Lee and Mrs. Otho Rester.

The Careless Letter Writers

(Editorial in St. Paul Pioneer Press.)

The American public was 8.5 per cent less careless or inaccurate about addressing its mail in 1928 than in 1927. Even so, the annual report of Postmaster General New shows that 23,049,044 letters went to the dead letter office in 1928.

Of course not all of these letters went astray because of carelessness or illegibility of addressing. In many cases misdirection of mail is unavoidable because addresses have moved, leaving no trace. But letters need not be condemned to hopeless wandering, ending finally in the dead letter office for that reason. If senders will only place a return address on the envelope their mail can be spared the humiliation of such an inglorious death. Indeed the Postal department attributes the improved showing of last year to its campaign to induce the public to give return addresses.

How much carelessness there does exist in the addressing of mail, however, can be appreciated from the fact that many of these dead letters contain money. Cash and currency found in dead letters amounted in 1928 to nearly $100,000, and the nominal value of drafts, money orders and checks contained was well over five millions.

The Big Yellow Sign

IS DISPLAYED ONLY WHERE

Genuine Alerte Lubricants ARE USED.

Of course, you know that the surest way to avoid high operating costs is to have your car Alarmed every 500 miles. Automotive engineers have long recognized this. That's why the Alerte System is installed as standard equipment on 39 per cent of the motor cars manufactured today.

But the methodical use of the system is only half the story, for the best system in the world will not offset the use of cheap greases. Cheap greases do more harm to a bearing than good. They defeat the purpose of any lubricating system.

When you bring your car to us we lubricate it with genuine Alerte Lubricant—a high quality, absolutely reliable lubricant, which is produced by the makers of the Alerte System. Because of our determination to display the big Yellow Sign which you see at our station, it is your protection—you can be SURE of the utmost in lubrication if you bring your car to us.

Conversing with Comrade Hen-wether had its embarrassing drawbacks at that. It is true, it didn't matter what you said to him, but on the other hand he had the trick of pretending that he heard perfectly and replying to what he thought you said.

Thus unexpectedly when I asked him to pass the bread he responded:
"Yes. He has got a funny nose, hasn't he? That's Herb Ahlswede.
But don't let him know you think so, because he is sensitive—terribly sensitive. Until I learned to be careful about it I used to make him mad when I spoke about it."

The forty-four caliber look which Comrade Ahlswede shot in his dip-tion would have pierced anything "it a rhinoceros-hide, but Plik Henwetprattled on obviously:

"It looks as if he drinks, don't it?
But that can't be, because he ain't allowed to here at the Home. It's darn curious, and I've been puzzled about it ever since I came here eight years ago next September."

Comrade Ahlswede half rose from his chair with a durable-looking iron stone-china cup in his hand, from which he hastily gulped the coffee. I was torn between a desire to appear polite and an impulse for self-preservation which was urging me to get under the table, when Colonel Stewart rapped sharply on the table and a neighboring hand drew Ahlswede back into his chair.

"That's one thing I pride myself on," shouted Comrade Henwether, leaning closer so that I could hear him. "I am considerate, I am, and never hurt anybody's feelings if I can help it. No matter how funny a thing looks to me I shut up about it."

Then changing the subject hastily,
he observed in a confidential shout:
"That's a mighty pretty woman you got with you—the blond one, I mean.
She ain't your wife, is she?"

"No? Well, I guess you are kind of sweet on her just the same. I'm old but I can tell from the way you looked at her and the way she looked back at you—Well, I miss my guess if there ain't a wedding pretty soon!"

Mrs. Hemmingsway was blushing to her ears.

Plik Henwether saw it.
"Notice how she's blushing?" he observed. "I wonder if she could have heard what I was saying to you.
If you want her, my boy, go in and win! I shan't stop you. If I was a little younger I am blessed if I wouldn't try it!"

Colonel Stewart rapped on the table again, but Plik failed to hear it.
Finally he sent one of the men who waited on the table with some kind of a message to my friend. The aide tapped Comrade Henwether on the shoulder and motioned toward the swinging door at the rear of the room.

Plik rose reluctantly.
"I know what's the matter," he growled. "I got to eat my supper in the kitchen. I must always do."
Then he laughed, a laugh of triumph.

"But I fooled him this time! I got all through before he caught me!" Expatriating loudly with his guide, Comrade Plik Henwether was led away past the swinging doors to the kitchen, where a loud rumble from time to time reassured us that he still retained the power of speech.

CHAPTER V. All for the Best.

At eight o'clock the Soldier's Home Band played an overture in the theatre, which was improved from the stable at the rear of the institution.
I will do that band justice. We had not heard them at their best out in the open. To get the full benefit of their talent you have to get them in a small building where there is no escape either for you or of the sound.
Never have I heard so much music in so short a space of time.

The curtain rose on Galatea and her apprentice at work. I did not have to make up until the first act was pretty well along, so I stood in the wings to watch. Maryella was resplendent in a flowing Greek robe and Mrs. Hemmingsway's pearls, which added just the final touch to the soft, glowing flesh of her neck.

When I had finished my approving inspection of Maryella I allowed my piano to stray to Mrs. Hemmingsway herself. She was dressed as before, except that beneath the skirt of her robe she was wearing voluminously ruffled pantaloons which modestly covered the criticized hiatus between the tunic and the ankle. She had said that she would fix her costume so that her husband would not object, and she had succeeded—but at what a cost!

I had just barely become accustomed to Mrs. Hemmingsway's concealed support when Jim Cooper, the warrior, stalked on the stage. But what an altered gladiator he was! It was difficult to tell whether he was infantry or cavalry. His chest preceded him by at least eight inches. If you didn't look below the waist he would sear you to death.

He advanced to Galatea and told her in manly tones that he loved her.
She spurned him, and when he tried to embrace her she spurned him again in the same place, rather roughly this time. Something must have become fastened or broken, because he stood for minute panic-stricken and then before our horrified gaze his chest sank down slowly and lodged conspicuously at his waist.

It's lucky he wore a waistband or I state to think of the consequences.

The plot of the piece was a trifle unfamiliar to most of our audience and the beauty of the lines was probably lost upon them.

"It ain't as funny as 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,'" vouchsafed Comrade Plik Henwether to the slide-tombstonist,
"but we won't let them know we think so. That's a darn pretty woman—the one that's in love with the fat fellow."

I was getting ready to go out and break the big drum over his head when a number of his fellow veterans made him subside by placing their hands over his mouth.

They kept him quiet, too, until the beginning of the second act, when the curtain went up on me standing on the pedestal where the statue had been. Comrade Henwether took one look and exploded into merriment.

I nearly burned up with anger. If it hadn't been for the play I would have jumped across the foot-light and choked the old fool. I tried to assure myself that it was all for the best; that I had to stand there because otherwise I would probably have had to appear in court for assault and battery the next morning;
but it was difficult to do.

"You can't fool me," said Hen-wether in the tone of a subdued fog-horn. "That ain't no statue. That's the fat fellow that sat next to me at dinner. At his age, he's funny. I'm kind they've got a down in this show."

We had to hold the performance while they put him out, protesting.
He delivered a Persian shot at the door.

"This! You'll be sorry you didn't let me stay. Wait until you want to play another piece. Where'll your band be without me to play the bass drum? Besides, I thought something like this would happen so I hid all the music!"

Chuckling, he was yanked through the doors.

We picked up the threads of the story and tried to go ahead. I stood there with hands upraised and eyes fixed upon the spot where Maryella would enter. It was a hard pose to hold even for a few minutes, owing to the interruption I had been obliged to stand there in that strained position for considerable time. My arms began to feel like leaden weights and a spot on my chin started to itch. It seemed as if I couldn't possibly keep from bending over and scratching it.

It was maddening.

"This is all for the best; it's all for the best," I kept repeating. "If it didn't itch I wouldn't know it was alive."

But that didn't stop it. It seems as if it would take forever for Mary-ella to make her entrance and kneel at the foot of the pedestal. How eagerly I waited for the words:

"It's my dearest wish that my beautiful statue should come to life."

I tried to think how it would be possible to make it plausible for the first move to a transformed statue to be that of scratching the shin.

At last she crossed the stage. She kneel. She looked up at me. She paused. It seemed as if the words would never come. What was the matter? I counted ten. At last I looked down at her. She was trying to speak but could not. Her eyes were fixed with terror on a spot above my head. I turned quickly.

One of the borders or hanging pieces of scenery was ablaze! Yellow, licking flames were creeping over it like serpents. It had not gained much headway yet, but it was a difficult place to reach.

I leaped from the pedestal. My first thought was for those old men crowded into the improvised audience chamber. Whatever happened, there must be no panic.

I stepped to the foot-lights.
Colonel Stewart, I said, "Will you please instruct your bugler to call assembly and draw your men up for inspection outside? Please hurry."

MUSICAL PROGRAM ENJOYED

Music Week Was Observed
In Bay St. Louis by Program at Central High School.

In line with other progressive and cultured centers of the country, Bay St. Louis did not forget observance of National Music Week.

Under auspices of the Schubert
Music Club, of which Mrs. George R.
Rea is president, Miss Evelyn Lacoste musical director and Mrs. Winfield Partridge accompanist, a most varied and interesting program was presented at Central High School during the week, witnessed by a large and appreciative audience.

It was notable that different schools, were presented on the program, in addition to the Schubert Club, notably St. Stanislaus College, St. Joseph Academy, Bay High School and R. W. Webb School. That the program was seemingly all too short is the best compliment that can be paid, and it would be hard to particularize for each in their own respective sphere, exceeded expectation.

Few cities of this size, we are certain, furnished so varied a program and from different sources as Bay St.
Louis. It was well evidenced there is not only splendid talent hereabouts but amply.

Bay St. Louis is indebted to the Schubert Club, as well as to those cooperating, for the initiative that made this observance of Music Week.

The program presented follows:

Choruses, "Hark to the Mandolin" and "Kiss Me Again," Schubert Club.
Piano Solo, "Aeolian Harp," Miss Loretta Smith.
Quartet, from the High School Club.
Reading, Miss Genevieve Green.
Piano Solo, Concert Etude, Miss Aitkens.
Vocal Solo, Trees—"Mammy Song",
Mrs. Orie M. Pollard.
Piano Duet, "The Tiny Roses" Misses Donna, Mae and Lorraine Quintini.
Vocal Solo, "Fairies in the Bottom of My Garden," Hermine Perkins.
St. Stanislaus College Orchestra playing selections from Bohemian Girl and Little Corporal March.
Musical Number, from Webb School.
Vocal Duet, Miss Evelyn Lacoste
and Mrs. H. C. Glover.
Vocal Solos, "In the Garden of My Heart," Stanley Reyes.
Piano Duet, Unfinished Symphony by Schubert, played by Miss Aitkens and Miss Mary Alice Hawkins.
Choruses, "Waters of Minnetonka and Indian Love Call," Schubert Club.

HEAD CIVILIAN REHABILITATION VISITS COUNTY

Sam E. Woods of Jackson, Here in Interest of Aiding Boys and Girls.

Sam E. Woods of Jackson, head of the civilian rehabilitation work in the state department of education, visited Hancock county last week in the interests of aiding in vocation training persons of employable ages. There are in Hancock county 22 on the list of those whom Mr. Wood is keeping under survey giving such aid to train them in vocational pursuits as will best tend to develop them to where they may help themselves by being equipped to do good work.

The work which Mr. Wood heads in this state is a worthy one, funds for its upkeep coming from state and federal aid. This work is now in its eighth year in Mississippi and during that time great numbers have been helped.

This department is not responsible for rehabilitating persons under the age of 17 years as this is the employable age in this state, and money cannot be spent on them until they are 17 years old, but where a cripple is and assistance is given him, particularly for hospital treatment, the funds for this help coming from the state-wide collection which is taken each Thanksgiving by the school children. Cripples and those who need treatment are sent to Dr. Willis Campbell's clinic at Memphis. Several children have been sent there for treatment from Hancock county. Mr.
Wood stated that Dr. C. M. Shipp, county health officer, has given him much valuable help in finding those whom his department can aid, and in assisting in sending children to the hospital where they may be cured.

When asked how long the assistance for rehabilitating one would continue Mr. Woods said: "As long as is necessary to rehabilitate them."
He pointed out that he tried to do what he could to aid the individual in doing what he desired, whether it be training for a barber, teacher, lawyer, bookkeeper, etc.

ought to be reported to the President of the United States."

CHAPTER VI. Jogging Back

The light snow which had been falling all day had been succeeded by heavier precipitation. The air was thick with falling flakes that loomed black as they dropped between us and the building. As the fire burned itself out we became more keenly aware of the cold and at Colonel Stewart's invitation we returned to the main building of the Home to get warm.

We made a fine motley picture with our combination Greeks and old soldiers, to say nothing of myself in white tights and white-face make-up.

"The stable was fully insured," Colonel Stewart assured us, "and we never kept horses in it anyway."

CITY MAKES FORMAL REQUEST OF COUNTY FOR GAS TAX MONEY

Commissioners Adopt Resolutions Seeking Funds To Meet $8,000 Bond Payment.

The Board of City Commissioners is seeking to relieve city taxpayers of the further burden of carrying the wall tax-burden, since the last session of the Legislature provided the present gasoline road protection tax shall take care of outstanding bonds against the Bay St. Louis seawall, built before the gasoline tax went into effect.

As there is $8,000 plus interest due on city seawall bonds in July the city is anticipating funds from the county gasoline fund, and the resolution below, adopted, is the formal request. "To the Honorable Board of Supervisors and Road Protection Commission of Hancock County, Mississippi: Gentlemen:

"Whereas the people of the City of Bay St. Louis are expecting to be totally relieved of the seawall tax now against them and their property, and,

"Whereas by an act of the State Legislature your Honorable Boards are authorized and directed to make arrangements for the payment of all outstanding bonds of the city issued for seawall purposes, and,

"Whereas all of the seawall work has been completed and your Honorable bodies have failed to this date to make necessary and definite arrangements for the payment of these bonds out of the gasoline tax paid by all the people of the county, and especially the people of the City of Bay St. Louis, and,

"Whereas some action should be taken by you before all of the funds have been expended, and,

"Whereas the City of Bay St. Louis has approximately Eight Thousand Dollars of bonds falling due in July, and which bonds were for seawall and road protection and should be paid out of the gasoline tax or funds derived from the sale of bonds," "Therefore be it resolved by the Commissioners of the City that the Board of Supervisors and the Road Protection Commission be and they are hereby requested to meet in joint session with the Commissioners of the City so as to provide for the payment of said bonds due in July and all other seawall bonds and thereby forever relieve the property owners from the payment of seawall taxes.

"Be it further resolved that copies of these resolutions be sent to the Board of Supervisors and the Road Protection Commission of Hancock County."

SPLendid PROGRAM MARKED "MOTHER'S DAY" AT STANISLAUS

Music Depart. Under Direction of Bro. Oliver, Entertains Many at Entertainment.

If applause—unintended—is a manifestation of appreciation, then the program presented Sunday night at St. Stanislaus College in observance of "Mother's Day," must have gone over big.

There was a large appreciative audience, as the college usually gets from Bay St. Louis and vicinity, and every number was given the most rapt attention.

Bro. Leo, director of the department of music, had carefully and skillfully prepared a program for the beautiful occasion, and one that was fitting as well as it was rendered. The young musicians gave every manifestation of both study and training and well they delighted the audience is best attested to by the individual composing the large and cultured gathering.

Check Value for Value Price for Price!

If you are considering the purchase of an automobile, you owe it to yourself to check the new Chevrolet Six against any other car—value for value and price for price!

Here, in the price range of the four, is offered a smooth, powerful, six-cylinder valve-in-head motor—which delivers better than 20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—and whose smooth, quiet, velvety operation, with its complete lack of drumming and vibration, is a revelation. Here are beautiful bodies by Fisher—with fittings by Tarnstedt... rich, deep-tufted upholstery and adjustable driver's seat. And throughout the entire chassis are found numerous examples of advanced engineering—such as quiet, non-locking 4-wheel brakes... ball bearing steering mechanism... and automatic acceleration pump.

But no mere recital of features can give you any conception of Chevrolet's value leadership. So we urge you to come in and see for yourself why over 500,000 people have chosen the new Chevrolet Six since January 1st!

ECHOES OF WEEK FROM ST. STANISLAUS COLLEGE

On Wednesday of this week the baseball team journeyed to Mobile for a three day stay, where they will engage in games with McGill Institute and Springhill Frosh.

A very delightful Mother's Day program was held at the College Auditorium Sunday evening and was attended by a large crowd.

The S. S. C. Orchestra went to Pass Christian last Wednesday to play for the Commencement Exercises of the Pass Christian High School.

A two-day retreat was held at the College for the boys Monday and Tuesday under the direction of Father Ruggeri and it has proven itself a wonderful success.

Sociality News.

Next week is Mission Week. A drive is on to make the percentage jump to 100. Attractive posters will be put up in every classroom and every member of the winning class will receive a holy picture and a secular medal. If you have never put any money in your mission box before, put some in next week and help your class to win.

Seven dollars and sixty-eight cents ($7.68) was collected last week, raising the percent to 55. The tenth A. made 108 per cent, the eleventh A. 91 per cent, and the eleventh B. 80 per cent.

Although we have remembered the mission box in the different classrooms very few of us have paid any attention to the tinfoil and stamp box. Come on fellows and let's wake up. We only have four more weeks. Let's make all of them, and especially next week, a banner week for stamps, tinfoil and money.

At last we have paid up our debt to Father Lord. We needed 40 cents more, and we gave in 50 cents more than making up the deficit.

The boys of the Sociality are showing their true and loyal devotion to Our Blessed Lady this month. Every class has increased the number of its communions. There were eight hundred and sixteen communions received last week, bringing the average per cent up to 109 per cent.

The percentages last week were: First—Fifth grade 170 per cent; Second—Sixth grade 132 per cent; Third—Seventh grade 123 per cent; Fourth—Eighth grade 120 per cent; Fifth—Ninth grade 116 per cent; Sixth—Tenth grade 103 per cent; Seventh—Eleventh grade 101 per cent; Eighth—Twelfth grade 100 per cent; Ninth—Special class 96 per cent; Tenth—Bro. Cyprian's Tenth grade 92 per cent; Eleventh—Bro. Rodolph, Tenth grade 89 per cent.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

REST AND RELAXATION

A man boasted to me not long ago that he never took more than four hours' sleep out of twenty-four.

"Why should I give up a third of my life to unconsciousness?" I asked. "Life's too short. Think of all the fun you miss while you're asleep."

That man hadn't the slightest conception of the meaning and purpose of sleep. To him, it was a "lump" way of putting in one's time. But he is not alone. There is an appalling number of people who feel the same way about it.

Science has not yet solved the mystery of sleep. Experiments are still being found. But this much we have found out: Sleep eliminates the poisons which are generated in the body during the day. It gets rid of the ashes from the combustion of brain and nerve and muscle. It revitalizes and refurnishes and rejuvenates the millions of cells that go to make up the marvelous structure of our bodies. A kind of glorious anaesthetic that has no unpleasant after-effects! And in the morning we have the feeling that we have been born again. The discouragements and weariness of the night before have been placed by new hopes, new plans, new ambition, new strength, determination.

Considering the marvelous sleep accomplishes—why is it that so many people begrudge the time given over to it? Every hour they cheat sleep they feel is that much gained, but never know anyone to complain of extra time from sleep and not feel better. If one is young, I can say, away with it for a while, but soon you will find it is the most out of Nature's greatest gift to humanity.

eyes grow dull, the face has a haggard look. There is no spontaneous reaction. The mind is stupefied. Sometimes loss of sleep leads to serious brain disorders and nervous troubles, often ending in insanity or suicide.

But all sleep is not of the right sort. A man may go to bed at eight o'clock in the evening and not get up until eight the next morning, but unless his sleep has been normal it does him little good. The sleep of exhausted nerves and troubled dreams is of little value. American sleep is inclined to be such a sleep, and for that reason we must train ourselves to sleep rightly. The average American business man lives and works under a terrific strain, so that when he retires there is too much anxiety in his brain to permit it to rest. His sleep is fitful, he wakes often, he tosses in his bed, he dreams continually—or so it seems to him.

For this kind of troubled sleep there is only one cure. Leave your business worries behind when you leave your office. Lock the office door on them. Of course it's not easy, especially if for years you have been in the habit of taking them along home with you and letting them share your bed. You must train yourself to do this.

It's simply a matter of habit. Change your thoughts just as you do your environment and your clothes and your associates. A hobby is a splendid thing to turn to in the evening. A good brisk walk after dinner will help. So will an interesting book.

Be the master of your mind. Get the most out of Nature's greatest gift to humanity.

DEATH OF YOUNG MAN BRINGS GRIEF TO WIDE CIRCLE

Lake Shore and Vicinity Mourns Death of Promising Future Hancock Countian.

That death is no respecter of person and loves a shining mark, has again been exemplified in the untimely death of a most promising young man and a future citizen of Hancock county.

On Saturday morning at 12:55 o'clock, May 11, 1929, the Angel of Death hovered over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Green, at Lake Shore, south of Bay St. Louis, and gathered the spirit of Charles Alton Green, native, aged 14 years, 6 months and 13 days. The deceased was a fine youth, of superior physique for his age and as a fine boy that ever blessed a home and was beloved by all who knew him.

He had been over a period of several weeks the victim of acute nephritis and myocarditis and all that could be done in his behalf was invoked in his behalf, but destiny and death are relentless and he was given every attention and the most tender ministrations.

He was a son of Edward Green and of Julia Sidonia Fabre, formerly of Bay St. Louis, and well known locally. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the late residence, Rev. Father Costello, of Waveland and Lake Shore officiating, and interment at Lake Shore cemetery. The funeral was one of the largest witnessed in these parts and the almost numberless floral offerings, expressions of love and sympathy, was a marked tribute.

The Echo chronicles the demise of this youth with much sorrow and with the many friends over the county expresses its sympathy to the bereaved parents and other members of the family.

Estimable Lady Goes To Her Reward

Mrs. Anna Bozonier Toca widow of Septime Toca a resident of Bay St. Louis for quite a number of years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. Marcotte, New Orleans, at 5:30 o'clock Friday morning. She was a native of New Orleans and was 82 years 3 months and 9 days old. She succumbed following a long spell of illness.

Mrs. Toca was well-known in Bay St. Louis, residing here with her son-in-law, the late Mayor R. W. Webb, and Mrs. Webb, her daughter. She was also the mother of our esteemed townsman, George J. Toca, and also of Ferdinand and Lionel Toca, in addition to the daughter at whose home she passed away.

Mrs. Toca was a most devout Catholic, practicing her religion in every day life, exemplifying the true Christian spirit.

Her funeral took place Saturday, at New Orleans, and the remains were laid "at rest" in St. Louis cemetery, No. 2. She was the widow of a most gallant soldier. While she had long past the biblical allotted age and lived a long and useful life, filled with golden deeds, her passing away is noted with sorrow.

DEATH OF MRS. A. E. BRANDAO

Mrs. Julia Donovan Brandao, wife of A. E. Brandao, for many years a resident of Bay St. Louis, died in New Orleans Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock, aged 70 years, following a long illness. The remains were taken to Bay St. Louis Tuesday morning and interred at at Cedar Rest Cemetery, in the family burial plot, ceremony of the Catholic faith.

Mrs. Brandao was the mother of Mrs. W. E. Hazard, of New York City; Miss Edna Brandao, of Montclair, N. J.; Mrs. Oswald Boh of New Orleans; Edward A., and Julian, both of Trout, La.

Mrs. Brandao was well known both in Bay St. Louis and New Orleans and the passing away of this most estimable woman is the cause of much regret. She was a devout member of the Catholic faith and her charities were numerous.

John Trotwood Moore, Noted Historian, Dies.

An Associated Press dispatch from Nashville Saturday carried the announcement of the death that morning of John Trotwood Moore, aged 70, State librarian and archivist during the past four administrations, author and poet.

Mr. Moore was an uncle of Mrs. Owen Crawford of Bay St. Louis, and on receipt of his death, she hastened that morning for the scene of his passing away.

It was stated the distinguished Southerner had retired at 11 o'clock the night previously apparently in good health. Next morning he was found dead in bed. Heart trouble was believed responsible for his death.

Mr. Moore had visited the Crawfords some years since and spent quite a while and will be most pleasantly remembered and his demise genuinely regretted.

The Associated Press says that Mr. Moore was one of the best known historians in the South and an authority on Andrew Jackson, whose life he studied continuously. He was the author of many books and a steady contributor to magazines.

NATURE IS AT ITS BEST ALONG MISS. GULF COAST AT THIS TIME OF YEAR

Beauty of Coast Lures Motorists—From New Orleans to Biloxi, Says N. O. States, Now Stretch of Nature at Its Best—Riviera of America Beckons Tourists.

As always, the New Orleans press collectively is ever a friend of this section of the beautiful Mississippi Gulf Coast, an dream time to time, not frequently, we find generous references.

Last Sunday's States contained a story of absorbing interest—to the motorist, at least, who would, within three or four hours of the Crescent City find unbelievable beauty and peace beyond their fondest dreams. It is charming, and added interest because of the truthfulness of every line, as the reader will best attest to by a perusal, as follows:

The Riviera of America beckons New Orleans motorists and is within three or four hours of the Crescent City. Motorists may find unbelievable beauty and peace beyond their fondest dreams.

For the Mississippi Gulf Coast is at its best right now and offers a touring objective second to none in the matter of scenery and natural charm. Warranted is the title of America's Riviera, for that stretch of country from Bay St. Louis to Ocean Springs rapidly is becoming the touring Mecca of the southern section of the United States.

From the moment the motorist rolls across Industrial Canal and onto the Chief Menteur road until he pulls into the curb at Biloxi he is never out of sight of beauty of every appeal. There is the winding highway through the swamplands and rolling country to the Pontchartrain bridge and then an unbelievable beautiful drive across the world's greatest concrete vehicular bridge into Slidell.

Five miles of shell highway on each approach of the great structure, waving marsh grass and winding bayous on each side, and then the bridge itself, with more than five miles across the azure waters of Lake Pontchartrain. Pleasure craft move over the surface of the lake and gulls sweep gracefully around the car as it moves over the table-smooth bridge; far in the distance one spies a train, like a toy because of the miles, and then the train passes one on the nearby bridge, each car peering from observation platform and window at the beauty of the lake.

Slidell and then the run across Honey Island and into the pinelands of Mississippi. Seventy-five miles it is to Bay St. Louis and then one rolls onto the bridge across the bay, and the coast proper. Pass Christian, where President Wilson found sanctuary from the troubles of his high office. Mississippi City, Gulfport, with its great deep harbor and its ships from the Seven Seas. Biloxi, first capital of Old Louisiana, settled in 1699. Then on the beautiful bridge across the Back Bay of Biloxi into Ocean Springs.

One may spend a lazy day along the beach at Bay St. Louis or Henderson's Point. There are picnic spots galore. Or one may dine in one of the modern hotels at Gulfport or Biloxi, or spread a picnic lunch beneath the trees anywhere along the beach. There is swimming and boating and fishing.

The Coast right now is a mass of flowers. Roses line the roadway for miles and there are yards blanketed with the colorful verbenas. Magnolias are in bloom, bathing the country side with their fragrance. Ancient oaks, many of them bearded with Spanish moss, offer picturesque spots for the holiday traveler.

Yes, the Riviera of America beckons the tourist. And on the return at night there is the beauty of sunset along the Coast and the gorgeous of moonlight on Lake Pontchartrain as one rolls back across the bridge out of Slidell.

Motor League of Louisiana reports the highways in good condition except for a few rough spots between Honey Island and Bay St. Louis.

Eastern Star

The Eastern Star will hold a called meeting Friday night, 8 o'clock, at the Masonic Temple at which time the following business will be transacted: The reading and refreshments will be served. The regular business meeting of the order was held Thursday night.

Adorable Sue Carol is the heroine and cause of all this inspired ambition. It is her first appearance opposite Tryon. The two make a pleasing comedy pair. They register well in the dialogue scenes, too, it is promised.

Whether the story proves that success formulas are worth while or not, this picture at least demonstrates the lengths to which a smitten young man will go when a pair of bewitching dark eyes and a radiant smile are pawns in the game of love.

Tryon, a veteran of the stage, makes an ideal talking picture star. Miss Carol's voice also has great appeal and resonance, it is reported.

High School Exams—May 20.

May the twentieth is the date set for the beginning of the great ordeal which will confront the High School in the shape of the dreaded—Washington Exams.

We've been thinking of their or rather the majority of us have been dodging, all throughout of them for the past nine months. But they've stolen upon us now and when they do come they are coming fast and heavy. There's nothing left to do now but study and pray and we're doing both at a furious rate these days.

The Lord help the lazy ones, among us though, for some of our teachers are praying that only those "who have studied during the year"—should pass.

Pre-Graduation Thoughts of a Senior.

"Yes, it sure won't be long now"—with daily reminders of those Washington exams and prayers—for the success of those who study," well, of course one is afraid to do otherwise.

I never could see much sense to exams (which most probably accounts for the grades I get) they don't prove much besides what the teachers already know.

But anyway when you hear the Seniors talk, "march," "song," "shopping," "invites" well, gee it sorta makes you feel funny yourself. Don't you feel sorry for them cuz they're graduating?

That is the "sheepskins" have already been ordered and by the way I wonder how mine'll look on me. A Senior.

Circus Day.

The crowning event of the social season was the delightful "circus party" given by the B. F. A. Sorority Tuesday night.

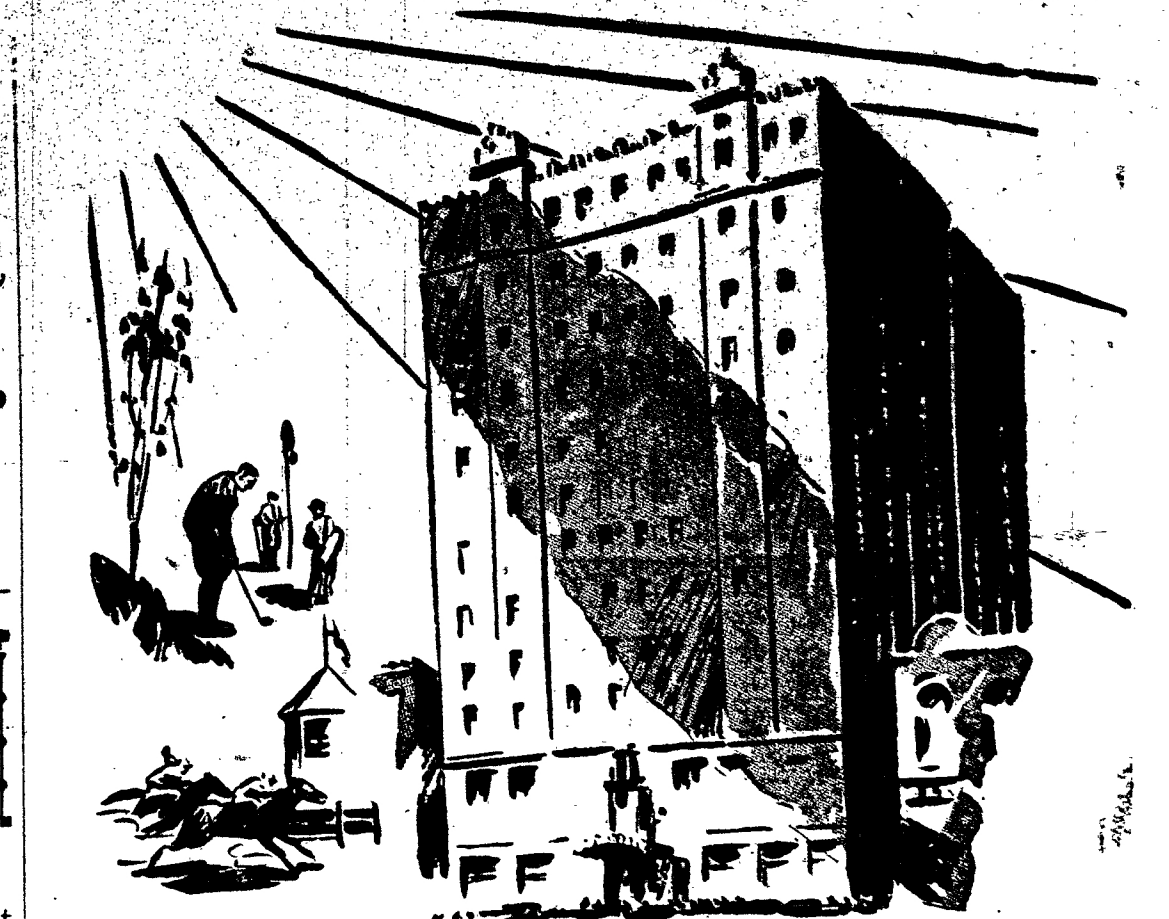

Everything was so characteristic of the Big Top that one felt the old thrill of circus days creeping on. Whistles blowing, bells ringing, cries of "Peanuts, red hot," (the day before) Pink Lemonade" (it was a deep maroon all most). "Oh get your hat dawgs here!" A mad rush to the tables—Gee, weren't those eats swell! Nothing like formality or dignity here every one just "kids at a circus."

The "circus" consisted of stunts given by the guests. These rivalled in originality and cleverness the best that even old Barnum and Bailey can offer.

Lucia Lince with her "baboon stunt" and Emmy Weiss impersonating a dainty tight rope walker were positively screams. On a draw Emmy received the prize—a bronze (colored celeoid) lion. The grand prize was awarded to the "P. B. D." Fraternity for their graceful (???) "Hobby Horse Trot."

There were many amusing interpretations of the "P. B. D.'s were quite the best" monkeys not in captivity. Chickens, dogs, trained seals, sacred cows—all so realistic.

Then the hostesses—Frances Manly as a "noble white steed" ridden by Dot Cassidy and Kate Allingham minus all dignity and in true clown fashion, came tripping (over their own feet) as a finale.

Hints for the Home

by Nancy Hart

To lengthen the life of linens, remember these rules for their care: Tablecloths and napkins of linen damask should be washed at home, if possible. Otherwise select a reliable laundry where cutting solutions are not used.

New linens should be laundered before they are stored away. Then pack them in chests subjected to even temperature, always avoiding the concentrated heat of radiators and pipes. Cedar chests are probably the best containers.

Linens enjoys exposure to sun and dew; in fact, no substitute compares with this means of keeping them beautiful and white. It also helps to preserve whiteness to wrap linens in fast colored blue paper when storing them.

An Easy Sunday Dinner.

Fruit Cup
Chicken fricassee
Buttered Spinach
Tomato salad
Ice box pudding
(Chicken, spinach and pudding can be prepared on Saturday.)

Eggs With Rice a Good Entree

Use 1-1/2 cups boiled rice, 6 hard-boiled eggs, 1-1/2 cups white sauce, 1 ts. chopped parsley and 1 ts. Worcestershire sauce. Pile hot rice on platter, cut eggs in quarters and nest in the rice; spread over all the white sauce and seasoning and sprinkle top with chopped parsley.

When Asparagus Arrives

Try baking asparagus with cheese sauce. Lay stalks (which have been boiled tender but not soft) in buttered baking dish and pour over them the cheese sauce, which is the usual white sauce containing grated cheese. Spread buttered crumbs over top and bake in a hot oven until crumbs are brown.

CITY ECHOES.

—Mr. Richard Griffith of Oklahoma City, and Miss Cora Lee Beers and Griffith Beers of Jonesville, Wisconsin, are visiting Mr. D. C. Griffith and family.

—Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Buckley had for their week-end guest over Mother's Day, Mrs. Cora B. Crisler of New Orleans, mother of Mrs. Buckley, who returned home Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hubert DeBen and unusually interesting little daughter, Melanie, are enjoying the late spring and early summer at the family home on South Beach Boulevard.

—Miss Mercedes Minton of the local telephone exchange office, returned Sunday from a pleasant two weeks' vacation spent in New Orleans as the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. Navarro.

—Miss Agnes Schultz has resigned her position at the local telephone office and has gone to New Orleans to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schultz. Her place has been filled by Miss Vivian Saucier.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jos. O. Mauffray spent the week-end at Oxford, visiting their daughter, Miss Oleah Mauffray, a student at the University of Mississippi. They went at this time to be present at the annual Mother's Day observance of the college.

—Mrs. Roger M. Boh and children, who have been visiting under the parental roof of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Breath, on North Beach Boulevard, left Wednesday for her home in Montgomery, Ala., accompanied by Mr. Boh. A return visit is planned in mid-summer.

—Mrs. H. A. Leche of Carroll avenue was made happy Sunday when her oldest son, Eric Leche, arrived from Brownsville, Texas, motoring here to surprise her on Mother's Day. He will remain for about two weeks' visit. Horace Leche, Jr., of New Orleans, was home for the week-end, also.

—After a most delightful visit of several weeks' duration, Mrs. C. P. Pinnson left Tuesday morning for the L. & N. for her home in Chicago. While here she visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. W. Yates, and was the recipient of a number of social attentions. Her return to Bay St. Louis is anticipated.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Speer, of Arcadia, Florida, are visiting at the home of their son, Dr. W. S. Speer, and family, at their home in Main Street. Mr. Speer unreservedly says the Mississippi Gulf Coast is far superior to the Peninsular State, climatically and otherwise.

—"Tod" Bordages is mourning the loss of his well-known fishing skiff which was one of the best built of cypress small boats hereabouts. He avers that during the recent visit of a number of college youths to Bay St. Louis from New Orleans a bon fire on the beach supplied one of diversions of the outing "across-the-lake" and the skiff was allowed to catch fire. A middle section was completely burnt out thus cutting it in half. He wants restitution, but the innocents (?) are gone and the blame cannot be attached. However, he is going to build another, and possibly better than the one that was lost.

—Miss Azalie Farre left Monday for St. Louis, to attend the convention of the Woman's Catholic Order of Foresters, representing the local Sacred Heart Court as official representative. She will be away for two weeks, and may go to Chicago before her return though this phase of her trip was not fully decided before leaving.

—Mrs. Honorine Muller returned to her home in New Orleans Saturday evening after a three-week visit to Bay St. Louis, house guest of her brother and sister-in-law, at 216 Carroll avenue. Mrs. Muller will shortly leave for San Antonio, Texas, where she will spend the summer visiting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Graves, the latter her daughter.

—A belated message reaches The Echo carrying the intelligence of the birth of a daughter, Mary Jaclyn, to Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Robertson, at Hotel Dieu, New Orleans, May 7, weighing 9 pounds. Mrs. Robertson, before her marriage was Miss Valmae Saucier, of Bay St. Louis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Saucier, who are, needless to say, the proudst of grandparents.

—Mrs. Val Yates and young daughter, Betty, and David McDonald, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. C. C. McDonald, left Wednesday for Boise City, Okla., for a visit to Mrs. Yates' parents. They will be away three or four weeks. The section of Oklahoma to which they are going is beautifully located almost in the foothills of Colorado and they anticipate a delightful visit in that wonderful healthful land.

—Mrs. L. Eagan will leave shortly for Pasadena, California, accompanied by daughter, Miss Madeline Egan, who will wed shortly after her arrival to Mr. Anderson, young son of former Pass Christian resident known for many years as resident agent for the Louisville and Nashville R. R. Miss Egan is a most charming and accomplished young lady of this city and the many friends will learn of this announcement with more than ordinary interest.

—The Sea Coast Echo, in common with the many thousands of friends over the State of its good friend, Lt. Gov. Bidwell Adam, regrets to learn of the painful auto accident which befell the rising young statesman the latter part of last week, while driving home at a point near Mexico, accompanied by John T. McDonald, Jr., who fortunately escaped unhurt. Gov. Adam is at his home at Pass Christian, where visits of friends are numerous and where many messages of earnest solicitation have almost swamped the household. Latest reports are all in his favor.

—But for the prompt response and efficient work of the city fire department Saturday morning, in Second between Main and State streets, the city would have probably witnessed another fire that would have made a wide swath, when the one-story single frame dwelling of Judge Frank Gutierrez, caught fire from a defective oil heater. The fire caused damage as well as the volume of water that drenched the furnishings. The section is closely built with frame dwellings and the fire unchecked would have caused heavy loss.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo E. Kenny came out from New Orleans Saturday morning to remain at their villa on the North Beach Boulevard, after spending several months at Battle Creek, Mich., in the interest of the late's health. Before returning home they visited relatives near New York City and friends in Chicago.

PAYS DESERVED COMPLIMENT

The Valden (Miss.) Outlook in its current issue pays an esteemed Bay St. Louis lady this deserved tribute: "Mrs. W. W. Nye, of Bay St. Louis, after an absence of many months, was in Valden Monday, greeting old friends. Never has there been a lady living in Valden more universally loved than was Mrs. Nye. Her loving influence was felt by all who enjoyed her hospitality of her home and her unselfish nature and thoughtfulness of others was felt not only by her neighbors but by all who knew her. Her presence on the street brought back tender recollections from Life's Book o' Memories."

LEITZ — GENIN

A wedding of much interest was that of Miss Alma Genin and Paul Leitz which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon, 2 o'clock, at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church, Rev. A. J. Gmelch officiating. Only intimate members of the family and a few friends were in attendance. Following the marriage Mr. and Mrs. Leitz left for a brief honeymoon on the Coast. They will return to Bay St. Louis to spend the summer.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Chas. Genin and the grand daughter of Mrs. D. H. Boyle and is a popular member of the younger set. She attended St. Joseph's Academy. Mr. Leitz is from Minnesota but recently has been in business in Birmingham. The best wishes of a large circle of friends and relatives go with them for a happily wedded life.

Appreciative of the prompt and effective assistance received from the Bay St. Louis Fire Department, neighbors and others on the occasion of the fire at my residence in Second Street Saturday morning, I wish to express my gratitude and to thank one and all. HAVE you had it? Are you going to have it? What are you doing to prevent it?

Everybody is asking these questions just now.

Doctors say to keep out of crowds; be cheerful; eat good food; get plenty of sleep; keep the bowels open.

At the first sign of constipation, take a dose of Thedford's BLACK-DRAUGHT.

At the first sign of Flu, that is, when you begin to have a little temperature and feel like you are taking cold, go to bed and call your doctor. You can not cure the Flu on your feet.

Prevention, as everyone knows, is better than cure. One of the best ways to prevent catching a cold which might develop into the Flu, is to keep your system free from impurities by using Thedford's
